KWAZULU-NATAL JUSTICE CRIME PREVENTION AND SECURITY CLUSTER (JCPS) HOLDS AN IMBIZO TO BRING THE LAW CLOSER TO THE PEOPLE FOR UNDERSTANDING

The KwaZulu-Natal Justice, Crime Prevention & Security Cluster will on 23 September 2008 be hosting an imbizo with an intention of bringing the law closer to the people for better understanding with a specific focus on conflicts on farms and how it relates to the Criminal Justice System.

This imbizo will run concurrently with the project Siyabonisana: We inform each other, which is an initiative by the Department of Community Safety and Liaison in partnership with SAWLA (South African Women's Lawyers Association) which is a series of educational messages in the media to increase access on make matters such as domestic violence, bail and sexual harassment.

The campaign is now being taken to the next level of direct interaction with the public and the public, especially women, will be able to access free advice from SAWLA attorneys and advocates on topics such as land rights, maintenance, marriages, divorce, domestic violence, drug and liquor laws, criminal proceedings, labour, wills and estates, social services rights and small claims court matters.

Event details are as follows:

Date: 23 September 2008-09-16

Venue: Cecil Emmett Hall in Vryheid

Time: 10:00

Members of the media are invited to attend this event.
