ENJOY BUT BE RESPONSIBLE – WARNS MCHUNU

AS the province of KwaZulu-Natal is getting ready to host one of the most glamorous national events, the Vodacom July, MEC for Transport, Community Safety and Liaison, Mr. Willies Mchunu warns all those who will be attending to enjoy but be responsible.

Mchunu said as this event usually attracts people from all over the country, traffic police will be out in numbers to enforce the law.

Working with eThekweni metro and other law enforcement agencies, there will be joint road blocks to ensure that all perpetrators are apprehended.

“We are very proud to have such an event of this magnitude which attracts people from all over the country but we warn all those who are going to drink and drive that we will be watching them. We have deployed traffic police in strategic areas and working with the metro, we will be conducting road blocks. Also in other parts of the province as well, we will be having various operations aimed at confronting all law breakers. We are serious about reducing crashes and fatalities. We are saying in KwaZulu-Natal Alufakwa Lubuya Nesaphulamthetho,” said Mchunu.

He emphasized that over speeding and reckless driving won't be tolerated.

Ends.
