Inkosi Mhlabunzima Maphumulo House: We wish to inform the people of KwaZulu-Natal that tomorrow, we will host a historic retirement ceremony for the dedicated and hardworking civil servants who worked for the Departments of Transport and Human Settlements before and after 1994.

Some joined the Departments as far back as 1981, 1982, and 1990 and were behind the construction of more than 34 000 kilometers of road networks and houses that made KZN a prosperous province.

Tomorrow we will salute them for the overall improvement of the transport system and the restoration of the dignity of ordinary members of society through the provision of warm homes for their families.

Critically, we credit them for strengthening a democratic government through their impeccable integrity and humility in serving the people.

We thank them for placing their skills at the disposal of the nation over the past years of service.

They are leaving behind a long-lasting impression of professionalism and an uninterrupted display of exceptional pride in the fulfillment of the will of the people of this province.

We call on the current generation of civil servants to draw inspiration from these champions of service delivery.
