DELIVERY PERIOD

Our delivery periods are firm. The delivery periods given are to be understood as working weeks. We excuse ourselves from any delay caused by strikes, riots, intervening holidays, or any delay caused by the actions of any government agency.

COMPLIANCE TO SPECIFICATIONS

The vehicles and equipment offered comply generally to the specification requirements. It is not envisaged that any substantial technical modifications will occur during the contract period.

SERVICE

After sales service is handled by the Iveco Dealer Network. Currently there are 24 authorised Dealers and Service dealers countrywide. Please see the attached Dealer List for details.

SPARE PARTS

Iveco South Africa maintains over R45.000.000 at retail price in spare parts in its main warehouse in Wadeville and at its dealers countrywide.

WARRANTY

The attached warranty details indicate that the warranty period commences from date of delivery to the relevant Government Department. As warranty claims are managed by Data Processing, the computer rejects any claims which are older than 12 months. Should any Government Department put new vehicles into store prior to service, we must be advised immediately in order to negotiate an extension of the warranty period.

TRAINING

Iveco Product Training provides effective training in the skill of maintaining and repairing all Iveco components.

The courses are open to all Iveco personnel, as well as their dealer network, major fleet owners and Iveco approved engine rebuilders who are actively involved in the repair and maintenance of Iveco products.

A comprehensive training programme is scheduled for the year 2004. Twelve training courses have been developed to fulfil training needs which have been recognised. Courses are structured to offer the participants practical training in overhauling, repairing and maintaining the components to the highest Iveco standard. Theory, group discussions and trouble shooting is conducted as part of the training sessions.

Driver training courses are also available upon arrangement with Iveco Training Department.

Courses are conducted throughout the year at the Wadeville Training Centre and also at certain of the Iveco Dealerships in the various Provinces. The training courses schedule for this year will be issued during March 2006.
